$21,000 GOAL ADOPTED FOR CHEST DRIVE

Gettysburg's Community Chest was given a $21,000 goal for its 1956 campaign Monday evening.

Meeting at the Engine House, the board of directors of the Chest adopted the recommendations of the Social Planning committee for the amounts that will be allocated to the six local organizations supported by the chest, then added $1,000 for campaign and secretarial expenses, $1,500 for a contingency fund and a minimum $250 contribution for the Pennsylvania United Fund.

Addition of the Pennsylvania United Fund to the list of those organizations for which Community Chest seeks funds will add seven additional agencies which will receive support from the local Community Chest.

Helping USO
The amount allocated to Pennsylvania United Fund this year was kept low because of planned increases to local organizations, but the directors held that Gettysburg should help support the USO because of its use by men from the community who are in the armed forces.

Dean W. E. Tilberg reported that more than three-fourths of the funds received by the Pennsylvania United Fund goes to the USO. "We have been using the USO for the last ten years and have given nothing to its support," Tilberg said. "Our young men have visited the 207 USO clubs throughout the U. S. and the 20 units overseas and have enjoyed the entertainment sent them by the USO and we have not provided a penny to help support it. I think that we have a duty to help the USO."

The Pennsylvania United Fund also provides smaller amounts to the Pennsylvania Citizens Association, American Social Hygiene Association, Pennsylvania Mental Health Association, United Seaman's Service, Pennsylvania, Welfare Forum and National Recreation Association.

Goal Is $1,300 Higher
This year's goal of $21,000 is $1,300 higher than the $19,700 sought last year. Last year's campaign fell short of its goal, with $16,500 secured.

Much of Monday's meeting was given to discussion of plans for further "selling" the need for larger donations to individuals in the community. President John E. "Buck" Stahl pointed out that only $1,600 in pledges was given last year. The remainder was in cash. "We must promote giving of pledges. The person who will give $1 to the solicitor can give $5 if he spreads the giving out over the year. The person who can give $10 can possibly give four times that much. If he pledges and doesn't have to give it all at one time."

Need Larger Gifts
Plans to tell the Community Chest story in various industries and to conduct drives within the factories were outlined at the meeting.

Stahl added: "It is more important than ever that we make our drive a success this year. Last year we fell short and as a result the agencies did not get all that they needed. They were able to

15 Persons Are Killed In Cafe Explosion Monday Night

MONTICELLO, Utah (AP) — An explosion shattered a crowded cafe in this southeastern Utah uranium mining community last night, killing 15 and injuring more than 26 of the 50 or more diners at the height of the busy 7 o'clock dinner hour. Officials said the death toll may rise.

The small Monticello Hospital counted 26 injured. Others were flown to hospitals in Salt Lake City and to Cortez, Durango and Grand Junction, in Colorado.

The blast was believed caused by leaking gas. A resident, Steven Hazelwood, risked his life to shut off the gas system after the explosion.

The blast was felt three miles away. "The cafe was there one moment I looked," said Mrs. Bernice Saul, "then the next — it just wasn't there."

The explosion ripped through the Lariat Cafe at the peak of the 7 o'clock dinner hour. About 60 persons were believed in the build-

Five Inducted; Ten Sent For Physicals

The Adams County Draft Board today sent five men for induction into the armed forces at Harrisburg and 10 others for pre-induction physical examinations. Two of the men were transfers from other boards and four of those inducted were volunteers.

The four volunteers inducted today included Nelson C. Groupe, East Berlin, the group leader; Richard L. Fair, Gardners R. D.; and Thomas C. Hartlaub, McSherrystown, who were volunteers, and Glenn E. Hankey, Littlestown R. D., who was assistant leader. The transfer, also a volunteer, was Louis G. Mehl, Phoenix, Ariz. Mehl is a graduate of Gettysburg College where he was a pre-ministerial student.

Of the men sent for physicals, nine were countians and one a transfer.

HARVEY WARNER IS TOP BIDDER FOR STATE LAND

The state Department of Property and Supplies at Harrisburg this morning opened bids on an 85-acre tract of land in Butler Twp. which the state has been given authority to sell after holding it for 25 years.

High bidder for the unimproved tract, part of which is being farmed by its former owner, Herbert Deckert, Gettysburg R. 3, was Harvey A. Warner, Gettysburg R. 3. His offer was $4,750. Two other lower bids were submitted by Mr. Deckert and by Frank Murray, proprietor of Murray's Greenhouse.

A spokesman at the office of N. D. Culbertson in the Department of Property and Supplies said the bid will be reviewed and there may be a decision in about a week on whether it will be accepted or rejected.

Cost State $5,800
The state official gave the impression that the state had hoped to receive a bid nearer the $5,800 the state paid for the land when it purchased it in 1931 from Mr. Deckert.

At that time the tract was bought for the State Aeronautics Board as the site for a proposed emergency airport. It was never developed for that purpose or any other.

Last year the state legislature passed a bill giving the state authority to advertise the land for sale. The land is part of the former Harbaugh estate. It lies west of the Biglerville Rd. and on the northwest slope of Keckler's Hill.

FLEAGLE RITES THURSDAY AT 2

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Morris L. Fleagle, 68, veteran Harrisburg conductor for the Reading Co. who formerly lived in Gettysburg. Mr. Fleagle was crushed to death about 6 o'clock Monday morning when he was pinned against a freight car by a steel cable being used to tow a freight on a siding.

The service will be conducted at a funeral home at 1314 Derry St. in Harrisburg. The Rev. Dale S. Bringham, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church of which Mr. Fleagle was a member, will officiate. Burial will be made in Rolling Green Cemetery, Harrisburg. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 6 to 9 p.m.

Fleagle apparently became entangled in a cable that was being used to move a boxcar from one track to another, railroad officials reported. No one witnessed the accident.

MRS. JOHN S. RICE NAMED DELEGATE AT CONVENTION

Mrs. John S. Rice, West Broadway, was elected an alternate delegate-at-large to succeed Mrs. Ramsay Black, of Harrisburg, who was unable to attend the convention. Joseph J. Lawler, secretary of highways, and former football coach at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, was also elected an alternate delegate-at-large.

By LEONARD A. UNGER
CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Leader today placed the strength of Adlai Stevenson in Pennsylvania's 74-vote Democratic delegation "at 62½ or 63 votes."

That would be a gain for Stevenson of six or seven delegates—each with a half vote—since the 148-member caucus counted noses Sunday night.

House Speaker Andrews (D—Cambria) disputed the figure, contending that some delegates listed themselves in the Stevenson column as an expedient.

"It is a case where some delegates who actually favor Averell Harriman for the presidential nomination put themselves in the Stevenson column to keep the pressure off themselves between now and the first roll call on Thursday," Andrews told a newsman.

25 For Harriman
He estimated about a half dozen delegates, now committed to Stevenson, would go over to Harriman.

The New York governor, he added, would have 25 Pennsylvania votes.

The convention eve show of hands found Stevenson with 59½ votes and Harriman with 11. Three and a half votes were either uncommitted or absent.

Most of the Harriman strength is among followers of Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, and David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers.

McDonough Silent
Joseph A. McDonough, Philadelphia, state AFL president who was absent for Sunday night's roll call, declined comment on where he stands.

The pro-Stevenson announcement of Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, heartened the governor but the UAW carries comparatively little influence in the Pennsylvania delegation.

Leader said most of the new Stevenson strength came from among the delegates uncommitted or absent Sunday night.

CONTEST BLANK IN TIMES TODAY

An entry blank for the Sesqui-centennial "Miss Jennie Wade" contest is published on Page 3 in The Times today for the convenience of those desiring to enter the contest sponsored by the Gettysburg Photographic Society. Members of the list will also be chosen from the court of entrants.

Qualifications specify that entrants in the contest be residents of Gettysburg or Gettysburg R. D. and be between 16 and 25 years of age. They may be married or single. Officials are hopeful that entries will be made promptly so that a representative queen may be chosen.

The queen will hold "court" at various programs during the sesqui-centennial celebration from Sept. 12-23 in a "Jennie Wade" costume. Appearances on radio and television are being promoted in order to give both the queen and the sesqui-centennial widespread publicity.

Judging will be based on beauty, personality and ability to speak when interviewed. Entrants will also receive a fact sheet concerning Gettysburg and the Sesqui prior to judging and the answers given to questions will count in the final judging. Answers should be simple, interesting and factual.

Stevenson Facing "Freeze" On Favorite Son Votes For Victory On Opening Ballot

By JACK BELL
CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's forces appeared today to be engaged in a strategic retreat away from an all-out effort to capture the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot.

The former Illinois governor found himself confronted by a tightening freeze of "favorite son" and Southern state delegations apparently planning to scatter their votes among half a dozen or more names while they waited to see which way the decision might go. Stevenson, the party's nominee in 1952, was reported as planning to shoot the works on the second ballot.

Delegates faced a full day of party oratory in this second day of the national convention. Its Platform Committee, meantime, worked on the touchy civil rights plank.

SOUTHERN TIER COUNTIES SEEK "FREE ROUTES"

Charles Bender, Leroy Smith, N. A. Meligakes, William Ayre and Henry M. Scharf were among the more than 100 representatives of 10 Southern Tier Counties who recently met at the Fort Bedford Inn to form the Established Routes Association, and to combat projected changes in the Interstate System of National and Defense Highways.

Scharf was elected to the Executive Council of the newly formed association. Delegations were present from Bedford, Allegheny, Westmoreland, Somerset, Fulton, Franklin, Huntingdon, Cumberland and Dauphin Counties as well as from Adams, Cambria, Blair, Mifflin and Indiana Counties.

Resolution Passed

After discussion and debate the group went on record with this resolution:

"Resolved, that we urge that in allotting funds under the Federal Highways Aid Act of 1956 first consideration be given to already established free routes in Pennsylvania; and that we organize an Established Routes Association to work toward that objective, to further the general economy of Pennsylvania, and to prevent economic distress in both the Northern and Southern Tier counties."

After hearing the story of the projected changes in the Interstate Highway System, the group endorsed the fight of the northern counties to retain the general route followed by Highway 6 in Northern Pennsylvania on the Interstate System in preference to the newly projected Sharon-to-Stroudsburg Shortway.

Alerted For First Time

Communities along Route 30, 22 and the Pennsylvania Turnpike, alerted for the first time to the situation, are also organizing to request that established routes in their area be built to modern standards before consideration is given to completely new and uncharted roads.

An Editorial

The following editorial from a recent issue of The Bedford (Pa.) Gazette is reprinted because its implications and references apply directly to Gettysburg. It calls attention to the dangerous threat to the future of the trans-state highways across the southern tier of Pennsylvania counties.

The editorial follows in full: The economic impact of the Federal Highways Act of 1956 was set forth with chilling clarity at a meeting of the Southern Tier counties of Pennsylvania, held in Bedford recently.

The biggest road program in the nation's history — a program far exceeding the national expansion of railways to the West Coast a century ago — is just getting into full swing.

Unless Southern Tier counties awake and go into action, they will be left at the post. They have already been left there, by the adroit and skillful efforts of the Keystone Shortway Association to seize a major portion of the Interstate Highway fund of 251.9 million allotted Pennsylvania in the next three years, for its Sharon-to-Stroudsburg highway.

As things now stand, the Southern Tier counties are left with just exactly nothing. The Pennsylvania Turnpike has been designated as an "Inter-state Highway," but it is ineligible at present for Federal funds — and it is a toll road. Routes 22 and 30 are relegated to the position of "farm-to-market" highways. That is nothing new to Bedford County, which has been waiting 15 years for any major improvement of Route 30.

Some people prefer not to fight the Keystone Shortway openly. Well, we're not afraid to oppose it, as the biggest (Continued On Page 6)

"JR. OLYMPICS" ARE PLANNED AT "REC" PARK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy hesitated slightly today as it approached the Florida east coast between Palm Beach and Melbourne with 120 mile an hour winds.

At 5 a.m. EST the U. S. Weather Bureau said Betsy had slowed its forward speed to 14 m.p.h. and lessened a threat to the Greater Miami area.

Betsy at that time was centered near latitude 25.3 north and longitude 75.6 west, or about 295 miles slightly south of east of Miami.

The present and indicated movement would bring the storm in on the east coast of Florida between Palm Beach and Melbourne late tonight or early Wednesday, the Weather Bureau said, "but winds will be increasing to dangerous velocities well ahead of the storm center."

The hurricane was bearing in from the Bahama Islands after doing millions of dollars worth of damage in Puerto Rico.

"THE HARDEST TASK"

Life is composed of many tasks... each constitutes a test... calling on each one of us... to do our very best... it takes a lot of faith and strength... to work from day to day... but there is satisfaction when... we gather in our pay... it's difficult to move along... when sickness holds us down... at times we all must make... believe... and be a laughing... clown... to overcome the... obstacles... that meet us at... each turn... is truly very... hard to do... and causes... great concern... to set a... course and follow it... though... some may think us wrong... is indeed a trying thing... and only for the strong... but the hardest task of all to... do... is just to sit and wait... while the wheel of fortune... spins around... then stops to... seal our fate.

Wednesday's Game

Yankees vs. Cardinals.

The Yankees moved a notch closer to assuring themselves of a second half title to add to the first half championship in the Upper Adams Little League Monday night by pounding out a 15 to 4 win over the Phillies at Biglerville.

The first half-titlists need win only one of their three remaining games to assure themselves of at least a tie for the top spot in the final standing.

In other games the Braves moved into second place by defeating the Pirates 5 to 1 at Bendersville, and the Cardinals lifted themselves to fourth place and dropped the Red Sox down to third place by winning 8 to 1 at Arendtsville.

Following Monday night's contests the league managers met to make plans for an All-Star game to be held under the lights at Biglerville on Labor Day night.

forces, the delegation was scheduled to meet tomorrow morning to open discussions on the platform.

The spotlight will be on the civil rights plank now being shaped by the national platform committee.

"Obviously, there's a lot of interest in that one," Leader told newsmen.

The Philadelphia delegation is on record favoring a strong plank pledging support of the Supreme Court decision on school integration.

Closed Session
Leader said the session will be closed to newsmen. It was a tip-off that Harriman delegates may press their fight on grounds that the New York governor wants an all-out civil rights plan.

There were reports that Harriman forces may ask the delegation to invite him to the caucus, but Leader opposed the idea.

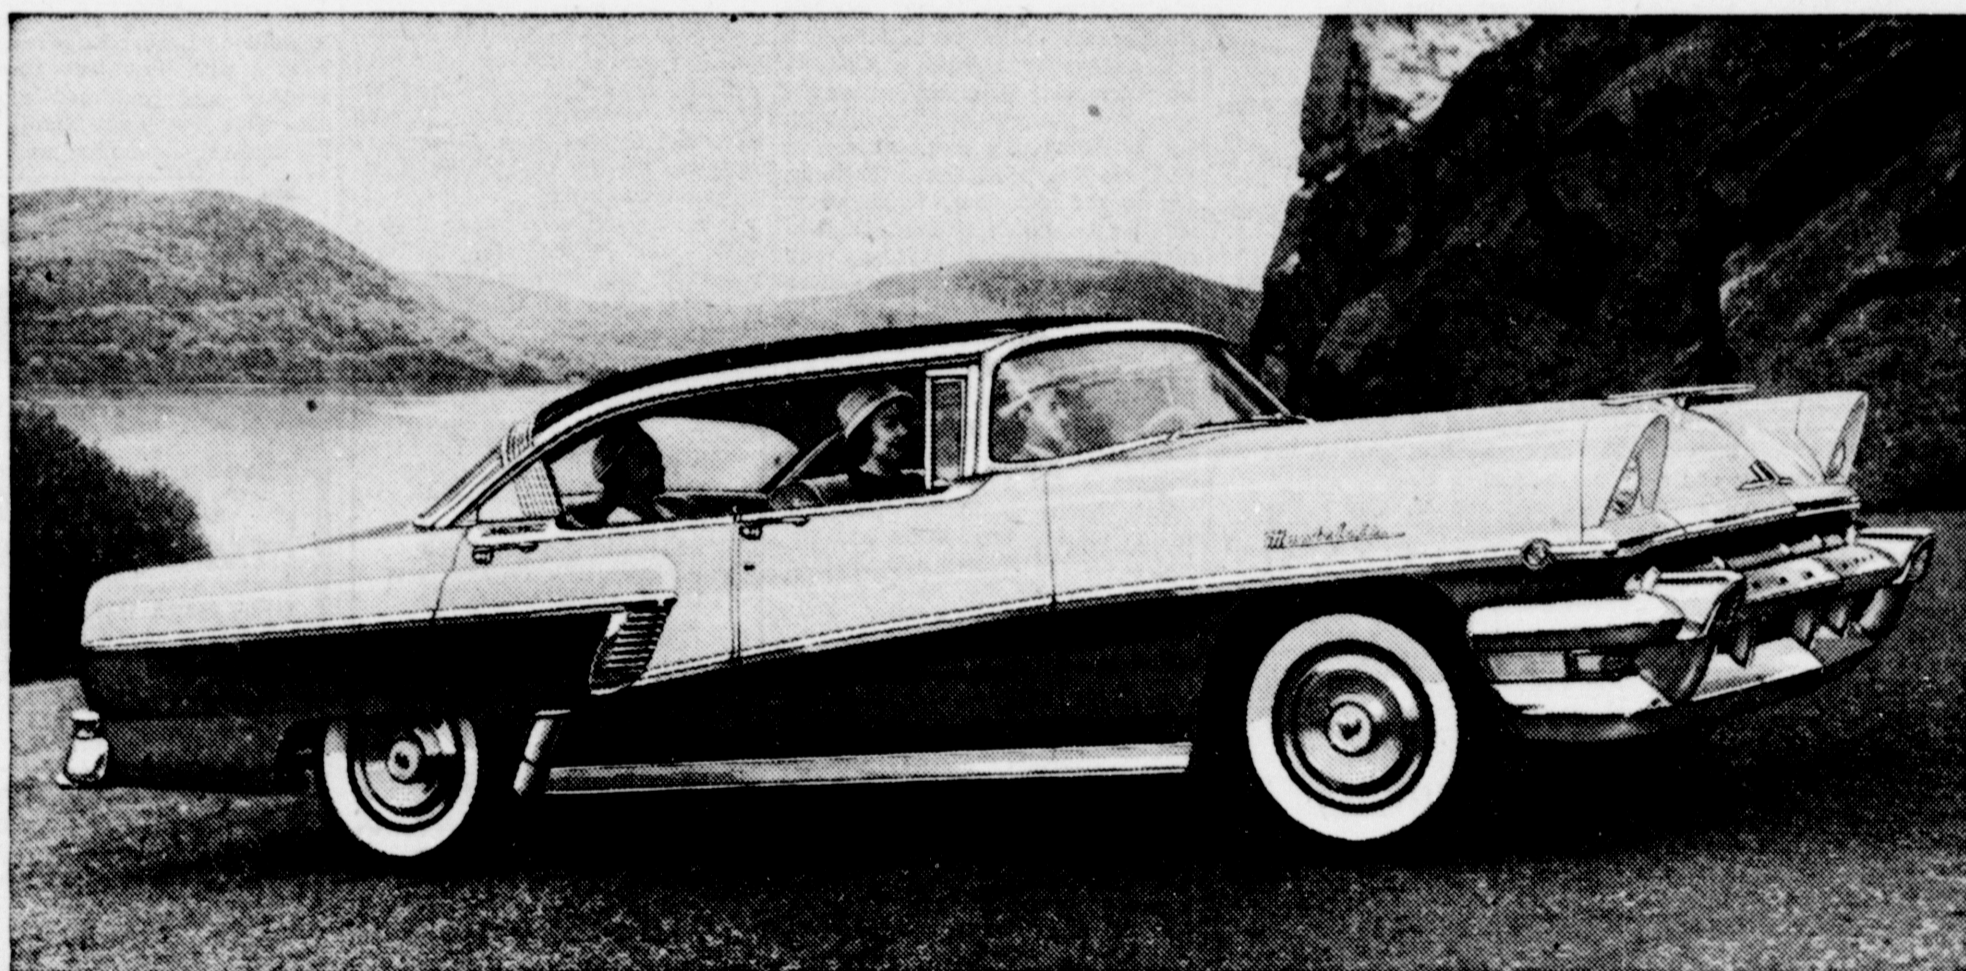

"It hasn't been the custom to hear the candidates in the delegation," the governor said. "There are too many to begin with. I'm against opening the caucus to anyone."

Roster Revised
The delegation's official roster was revised to show the revised status of nine alternates who moved up to delegate posts.

They include Charles J. Studden, Pittsburgh, replacing the late former Sen. Francis J. Myers; Raymond Malone, for J. Sydney Hoffman; Eugene Hagerty, for Mary E. A. Hersch, and Francis White, for John J. Reilly all of Philadelphia.

Charles J. Gane, Upper Darby, for John J. Mallick, Chester; Dewey Hancock, Folsom, for Paul W. O'Rourke, Drexel Hill; Lester B. Fiester, Lancaster, for David R. Eaby, Ephrata, and Michael J. Quinlan, Pittsburgh, for the late Alex P. Meador, Wilkensburg.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Council Proceedings: The regular August meeting of the Town Council was held Tuesday night with the following members present: Messrs. Oyer, Culp, Wierman, Gilbert, Hammond, Beck and Wisotzky — President Gilbert in the chair.

After the reading of the minutes, sewer matters were discussed and a motion was made that a blank be prepared for use of sewer inspector. Motion carried.

The matter of West High street was taken up, but held over. Mr. Wisotzky moved that Attorney be instructed to ask the Court to appoint viewers on land of Thaddeus Warren. Motion was carried.

Mr. Hammond spoke against hitchhiking posts on the streets. He moved that the Highway Committee be instructed to remove immediately all hitchhiking posts on the streets on which trolley cars run. Carried.

Mr. Wisotzky made an appeal to the council for an appropriation of $250.00, at least $200.00 for the Fire Company and then made a motion that the Council appropriate $200 toward the expenses of the Company on account of the convention. He stated that it was not thought to be a fair thing to ask the business men of the town to contribute toward this subject.

Wedding Bells: Bruner — Welty — Guy Bruner and Miss Sara Welty were married in Cumberland, Md., by Rev. W. Wm. Barnes, of the Methodist Episcopal church, Wednesday, August 8. The bride and groom returned home Monday evening.

The announcement of their marriage was a surprise to Gettysburgians in general, as few knew when the event was to take place. The bride and groom are two of Gettysburg's most estimable young people, the latter being engaged in the lively business here. We extend congratulations.

Operation Performed: Miss Mary Weaver, whom we noted as being taken to the York hospital, was operated upon last Thursday afternoon. The operation was successful, but her condition is reported as such that slight hopes are entertained for her recovery.

Will Celebrate Golden Wedding: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Heagy, of near Table Rock, will celebrate their golden wedding next Friday, August 17th. All of the children are expected home to enjoy the occasion.

Local Miscellany: Robinson's Show to-morrow
Adam Ertter has painted the wood work of his residence on Chambersburg St.

A market for Gettysburg is again being discussed. It is to be hoped that the project will become a reality.

Sixty-four tickets were sold at the station here for the moonlight excursion to Pen-Mar Thursday evening.

The Masons broke camp yesterday, after a pleasant outing of ten days.

The Gettysburg Band practiced at Round Top Monday evening and on returning to town rendered three selections in the Square. On Saturday evening the band will give a concert in the Diamond.

A large excursion from Brunswick, Md., and other points along the B. & O., is scheduled for Gettysburg today.

Deaths And Funerals: Ziegler — Mrs. Margaret Ziegler, wife of Thomas Ziegler, of York Springs, died in that place on Sunday, August 5th, from heart trouble, aged 77 years.

Mrs. Ziegler was a daughter of Charles Miller, deceased, and was born and grew to young womanhood in Huntingdon Twp. She was married to Thomas Ziegler about 60 years ago.

Newman: Henry D. Newman, who was born and reared in Latimore township, this county, died at his home just over the Cumberland county line, last Wednesday morning, aged 78 years. Deceased was a veteran of the Civil War. He is survived by his wife

Today's Talk

NATURE OUR PROMPTER

There is usually a "prompter" out of sight on the stage to help an actor's memory. If necessary, we hear very little of prompters these days, however. They were more numerous in the days when the plays of Shakespeare were most popular.

In this connection I often think of Nature as being a universal prompter. She keeps giving ideas that have been neglected. We get so much from her. She has been giving ideas for centuries, with hardly a realization that she was the originator by those who have grown rich from Nature's suggestions. Think of the variety of perfect designs that a light snowstorm presents. Man never created a design more beautiful or perfect than that of a snowflake!

Trees, flowers, rocks, rivers, mountains — all have contributed to the progress of mankind. And when man has made mistakes, Nature has stepped forward to prompt him and set him on the right track. It is interesting and enlightening to watch how the wild animals take care of themselves, and how the birds build their nests, and take into consideration all the methods so as to bring their little family into the world without tragedy.

What engineers are the Beavers, that make their own dams, and call upon no concern for the lumber to build them. Their teeth will fell many a tree that a saw or axe could not surpass in neatness and perfect knowledge as to its best place to fall. Near my summer camp was a Beaver's home a few years back, and for some distance in the forest a path was cleared to bring in the right size trees to build their home.

It is said it is instinct that leads animals to live and take care of themselves. But I am of the opinion that it is all an accumulated knowledge that has been inherited from ages gone by. Whatever it is, we learn by it, and look upon all Nature as a benefactor!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Disappointments".

THE USUAL THING

Now that summer is here and the long days are warm, most rhymersters must follow the stereotyped form

And a verse or two now from their pens quickly roll
Relating the charm of the old swimming hole.

They may sing about love through the winter, and dream,
They may sing the delight of strawberries and cream.

The joy of a boy with his hickory pole,
But they always come back to the old swimming hole.

It seems that no poet would be satisfied
Or count that his duty were done, unless he

Related in rhyme the delight of the old soul
That wandered once more to the old swimming hole.

His name is unknown and his fame is unsung,
He must have been born when the world was quite young

But he started a fad that's beyond all control —
The man who first sang of the old swimming hole.

RUSS COURTMAN
DRAWS CROWDS;
BUILT LIKE OAK

MOSCOW (AP) — Russian basketball has come up with a fellow who pulls in more crowds than Lenin's tomb.

He's Vasily Akhtayev, a 7-6½ monster built something like an oak tree. He plays basketball something like an oak tree, too.

But the big guy really packs 'em in. During the current Soviet Spartakiad, resembling Olympic trials, the 16,000-seat outdoor basketball-tennis stadium has been filled everytime Akhtayev and his Kazakhstan Republic team take the court, leaving the adjacent 103,000-seat Lenin Stadium virtually empty during the track and field contests.

Ex-shot Putter
Vasily is an ex-shot putter. And until recently, he tossed the ball toward the basket in the manner of a shot putter.

He's improved during the Spartakiad, however, and leads the individual scoring with 188 points in five games. Actually, he "dropped in" that many—reaching down for a pass from a teammate, then plunking the ball through the nets.

For all his points, however, Vasily is no clinch to make Russia's Olympic team. He can't jump. And when his team starts a fast break, it's strictly a four-man show Vasily lays a bit.

Crowds Love Him
Still, the crowds love him, cheering, clapping and whistling wildly when Akhtayev takes the floor. It's a tough blow to some Soviet sports writers and sports officials, who often have lambasted U.S. teams for what they called "freaks."

In spite of his clumsiness and past statements by Soviet leaders, however, Russia's basketball selectors are giving Vasily a good look. They're willing to try almost anything to beat the United States at Melbourne next fall.

ALLENWOOD, Pa. (AP)—The Rev. Herman C. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Quarryville, has been appointed superintendent of the nearby Devitt Home.

The appointment was made yesterday in Allentown by directors of the Phoebe Home there which conducts the Devitt institution.

It is located on a 220-acre tract and provides accommodations for 100 persons in its 14 buildings.

The Rev. Mr. Snyder is a native of Tremont, Schuylkill County, and was graduated from the E. and R. Seminary in Lancaster in 1934. He was ordained in Tremont and served four years as pastor in Macungie, Lehigh County. He also served as pastor of Muddy Creek Reformed Church at Denver, Lancaster County.

WALTER APPLIER

The Totem Pole Playhouse's current attraction which opened Monday for a week's run is Lesley Storm's psychological drama, "Black Chiffon," which was one of London's and New York's most widely acclaimed theater offerings when the distinguished British actress, Flora Robson, starred in it several seasons ago.

Josephine Nichols will enact the role here that Miss Robson created, that of a worthy and respectable matron of blameless life who, a few days before her son's wedding to a nice young girl is arrested for an act she can't quite explain. In a frantic attempt to prepare some sort of defense in court the next day, her husband's lawyer calls in a psychiatrist. Looking under the surface of polite, agreeable family life, the psychiatrist gradually brings to light dark secrets which are shocking to everyone concerned.

Walter F. Applier will play the role of her sharp tongued husband who has always been jealous of his wife's love for their son. Doug Robinson will be seen as their son, and Marianna Bees will portray the son's fiancée, Frances Lower, who last appeared in the Waynesboro Little Theater production of "Solid Gold Cadillac," will play the part of Nannie the family's friendly servant.

Bellefonte Crowns
Two Sesqui Queens

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—Two queens presided over the Bellefonte Sesquicentennial Celebration today following their coronation.

Sen. James H. Duff crowned Miss Natalie Carner, Mingoville, as "Miss Bellefonte" and Miss Marjorie Shope, Bellefonte, as "Miss Centre County" last night. He also crowned Melissa Lyon, 5, as the "Little Queen" of the week-long festivities.

The community is celebrating its founding in 1806.

"You are the kind of people to show the world what kind of a wonderful town you have," Duff declared in crowning the queens.

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson and former President Truman met Monday for the first time since Truman endorsed Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's top rival for the Democratic presidential nomination.

They greeted each other with a smile and posed for pictures together. The meeting place was a breakfast given by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

Braves Make It Three Out Of Four In Series With Redlegs Who Skid 4 Games Off Pace As Chances Fade

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Have the Cincinnati Redlegs, who figured "to go as far as our pitching will carry us," reached the end of the line?

It was Manager Birdie Tebbetts who tagged his pitching the big "if" in the National League pennant chase, and now that his not-so-robust Redlegs are slumping at the plate just when the pitching is in need of a lift, the Cincys are hurt.

Tebbetts needed a "stopper" last night, what with relief ace Buster Freeman sidelined by a freak mishap and Hal Jeffcoat and Brooks Lawrence taking their lumps, but he couldn't find one. Milwaukee's first-place Braves tagged Johnny Klippstein and swept the final three games of their four-game set with a 5-1 decision.

Four Games Behind
The defeat skidded the Redlegs four games behind the Braves and two back of Brooklyn, rained out at New York in the only other game scheduled in either league.

The Redlegs, who won the series opener behind Larry Jansen, who was just recalled from the minors, were on even terms with the Braves for five innings. Then Del Crandall, whose sacrifice fly produced the first run, tagged Klippstein for a two-run homer, his 13th, to break a 1-all tie in the sixth.

Rookie Frank Robinson, who was 1-for-10 in the first three games of the set, supplied the bulk of Cincinnati's inept attack, going 4-for-4 and socking his 26th home run. It was only the fourth home run managed by the heretofore free-swinging Redlegs in the series.

3rd For Phillips
Rookie Taylor Phillips, a 23-third victory without defeat with his second straight complete game — scattering seven hits and walking only two while holding Cincinnati's other power guys, Ted Kluszenski, Gus Bell, Wally Post and Ed Bailey, hitless.

The Braves got their third two runs off Jeffcoat on Danny O'Connell's bases-loaded single in the eighth. Jeffcoat was the fourth Redleg pitcher, following relievers Art Fowler and Don Gross, as Tebbetts again missed Freeman — the 10-4 bullpen ace who suffered a slipped disc while fielding a ground ball last Thursday.

The Williamsport Grays of the Eastern League put 16 men on base last night but still lost, 4-0, to the league-leading Binghamton Triplets.

The Grays got 14 hits, including a double, drew a base on balls and one player was hit by the pitcher. When the smoke cleared, 14 Grays had been left on base, and two were double-play victims.

The victory enabled the Triplets to improve their first-place margin to 2½ games over Reading and Schenectady, the deadlocked second place teams.

Rain washed out three other league contests.

R. Asper held the Littlestown squad scoreless while giving up three hits. Gettysburg earned one of its two runs and pounded out 14 hits to win the contest. The victors pushed across runs in the second and fifth stanzas of the game.

His office announced yesterday that he expects to fly to San Francisco either Thursday or Friday with the Pennsylvania delegation, which leaves Pittsburgh Friday. Martin is chairman of the delegation. The senator's aides said the change was prompted by a call from convention officials.

Sen. James Duff, Pennsylvania's junior senator, plans to leave here by plane Wednesday with his administrative assistant, Gerson H. Lush.

Martin's assistant, George I. Bloom, is on leave to serve as state Republican chairman and already has left for San Francisco.

CASEY STENGEL SAYS MANTLE IS "ON HIS OWN"

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Gnarled old Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, let it be known today that Mickey Mantle is strictly on his own in his pursuit of Babe Ruth's home run record.

With 43 games to go, starting with tonight's date with the Boston Red Sox, Mantle must hit 20 homers to eclipse Ruth's mark of 60 and become the present-day Sultan of Swat.

"I don't know how I can help him toward the record," croaked Stengel. "It's a job he'll have to do himself. The pitchers won't help him any."

Won't Change Position
"They'll walk him half the time anyway or give him bad balls to hit at, so it's a problem he has to face himself."

The suggestion was raised that maybe Stengel would consider batting Mantle in the leadoff spot, so Mickey would get to the plate more often.

"No dice," said the professor. "You build your batting order to win ball games, and besides he would get only six or eight more times at bat if he was the first hitter."

"Well, then, does the Professor think his man will break the record?"

Tougher And Tougher
"Half the time I doubt it," he answered. "They figure to make it tougher and tougher for him. They're sure not giving him much to hit and the longer they do that, the more anxious he might become to take a swipe at some of those bad pitches."

Mantle talks less about the record than anyone. He does admit that he is getting fewer and fewer good pitches to hit.

"I'd like to hit 75, if I could," he said. "But I'm not worrying too much about it. What I'm trying to do is get a piece of the ball, so I can keep hitting around that 370 mark."

In Monday's contest the Red Sox took their fourth win of the season behind the pitching and batting of Ron Redding, who not only held the Red Sox to eight hits and three runs, but hit two out of three and came in with two of his own team's four runs.

List All Stars
The final tally by the Yanks was a homer in the fifth by Schultz. The contest marked the last game of the regular season for the Yanks.

Democratic Plank Drafters Seek Unity On Touchy Issues

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic platform drafters sought today to place party unity above how they feel on racial segregation in schools—an issue that could tear them apart as they gird for the November elections.

Compromisers went to work at the party's convention where they work best—backstage. You had to strain to see the forces trying to settle the dispute to the satisfaction of both North and South.

A stage center was the platform's farm plank, about to be put on public display shortly. So far, three such little-controversy planks have been unveiled as proposals of a 17-member drafting committee, yet to be acted upon by the 108-member Platform Committee and the convention delegates.

Controversial Issue

These three deal with finances, atomic energy and domestic policies in general. Together with the civil rights and seven other planks they are expected to be made ready today and tonight for presentation to the convention in time for a final vote tomorrow night.

A strong voice for party unity, with a civil rights plank somewhat satisfactory to all, was that of Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Rayburn told his Texas delegation yesterday: "Somewhere, some way we will get a plank on which Texas can run a candidate for president and elect him."

Backs Johnson

Rayburn is backing Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas' favorite son, for the presidential nomination.

House Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, chairman of the Platform Committee, is holding the touchy civil rights plank till last.

"I feel confident of a platform that the convention will approve," he told newsmen. To questions, he said yes, that included civil rights.

Minority Report

Charles Diggs Jr., Negro congressman from Detroit, said Northerners would present a minority report if they regarded the civil rights proposal unacceptable.

This group wants specific reference to the unanimous Supreme Court decision barring racial segregation in public schools.

John S. Battle, former governor of Virginia said one of several Southerners on the drafting group, said any such reference would mean Southern Democrats "could not live within the party."

Possible Floor Fight

Diggs said Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, a member of the drafting group, would offer from the convention floor a strong civil rights plank if it did not. Celler declined comment on his plans.

On the farm plank, Claude Wickard, former secretary of agriculture and a Democratic candidate for U.S. senator from Indiana, had urged a party stand for 100 per cent of parity on farm prices and incomes.

Some members of the drafting group balked at government farm loans pegged this high, and Rep. Harold Cooley of North Carolina, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, was called in.

Favor High Supports

Cooley told newsmen the proposal now would call for 90 per cent government supports on basic crops, such as cotton, wheat and corn, with other methods aiming at the full or 100 per cent goal. Parity is a calculated price said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

"I know most farmers will be happy with our plank and I believe most Democrats will support it," Cooley said.

A proposed "financial policy" plank promising every taxpayer an average reduction of $40 a year was unveiled with pride.

Higher Tax Exemption

"We favor an increase in the present personal tax exemption of $600 to a minimum of at least $800," was the key line.

"Lower income families need tax relief; only a Democratic victory will assure this."

Tax experts have told Congress the tax plan could reduce federal income between four and five billion dollars a year. But platform drafters said the revenue loss would be between 2½ and 3 billion dollars.

As The Convention Got Underway

attempted highway grab in the history of this Commonwealth. In effect, it is proposed to move the original northern tier Interstate Highway route to the center of the state. This would eliminate Route 6 from the Interstate system, and would funnel funds almost exclusively into a route which does not exist on any map.

Its effect on Southern Tier counties would be incalculable. We can compare it only to some of the major transportation changes in our nation's history. Its eventual effect on our economy would be to leave us with "farm-to-market" roads, completely by-passed and isolated from the main stream of Interstate travel.

The irony of all this is that from 1947 until the past month, nothing of this sort was ever contemplated. The present Interstate System came into existence in 1947, and has been accepted as a wise concept of road planning, linking major industrial cities and metropolitan areas. Now, suddenly, this is to be scrapped.

Why? Are the economies of the entire Northern Tier and the Southern Tier to be sacrificed? Is established business to be scrapped? Are existing highways to be relegated to "farm-and-market" roads, when their importance is already historically proven?

The cold facts are these. A total of 251 millions will be spent on Interstate Highways in Pennsylvania in the next three years. Many more millions will follow these, over 13 years, going to 1,478 miles of highway on a 90-10 basis.

In contrast, over 5,000 miles of "federal aid" roads will receive 33 millions, matched by the same amount from the state. The chance of receiving help on this system is one-in-24. The bulk of the money will go into the Interstate System. Those who are off the Interstate are out of luck. It's as plain as all that. Now, not after the damage is done, is the time to act.

Stevenson

Truman has endorsed Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Truman is 72; Mrs. Roosevelt 71.

In the face of pleas for party unity, Southern delegations remained hesitant to commit themselves on presidential nomination candidates until the convention decides whether the party should endorse the Supreme Court's decision barring racial segregation in public schools.

Early Victory Remote

This and the encouragement given Northern state favorite sons by Truman's endorsement of Harriman evidently contributed to a revision in Stevenson's strategy despite a commanding lead in committed delegate strength.

Jacob M. Arvey, Illinois national committeeman and a Stevenson lieutenant, said this combination had made a first-ballot victory "more remote."

Truman's endorsement for Harriman has firmed up some of the favorite son support," he said. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who led on the first ballot in 1952 but lost out to Stevenson, said he thinks it will take two ballots for Stevenson to win.

The Associated Press poll of delegates willing to express a public preference showed Stevenson with 554 of the 686½ votes needed for the nomination. Harriman trailed with 229½, other candidates had 283 and 305½ were uncommitted.

Some Expect Deadlock

Truman's endorsement of Harriman apparently gave the favorite sons hope they can hold out longer on the chance that a balloting deadlock might develop.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who has most of Ohio's 58 votes pledged to him, made it clear the expects to wait out several ballots before he releases his delegation.

"I don't think there will be an early disposition of the nomination," Lausche said.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner still was a holdout with most of New Jersey's 38 votes tied up. Meyner said it was doubtful his name would go before the convention.

In their effort to boost their candidate's total, Stevenson's backers indicated they were counting on picking up strength primarily from New Jersey, Massachusetts and Washington, and from several Southern states.

Johnson Hurts Stevenson

The maneuverings of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas held out the prospect that Stevenson might be denied some Southern support he otherwise might have on the first or the second ballots.

Johnson moved into the category of a "maybe-serious" candidate for the nomination.

Johnson appeared in effect to be working to see that party harmony was achieved by adoption of a civil rights plank that would not alienate Southerners.

The situation seemed to shake down this way: whether Johnson actually makes a fighting bid for the nomination will be determined by the trend of the balloting.

Johnson Has Hopes

If Johnson believes Stevenson can be stopped and the nomination thrown to some other candidate, he might move quickly to way plans, outlined the fight which communities of the area have on their hands in order to obtain funds for Route 30 and other highways in the Federal Aid program.

He pointed out that under present interpretation, the Turnpike is listed as part of the Interstate System, but is ineligible to receive Federal Interstate funds. Routes 30 and 22 in this area are not parts of the interstate system. Thus a double blow impends if something cannot be done quickly.

Greatest Peacetime Appropriation

Attorney Murray Garber of Bedford explained the tremendous impact of the road program—the largest peacetime appropriation of funds ever made. Under the act 33 billion dollars will be spent on the Interstate Highway System in the next 13 years.

Of this Pennsylvania will get 1,478 miles of the 40,000 in the Interstate System or 3.5 per cent. The Pennsylvania allotments for the next three years are as follows: 1957, $3.6 millions; 1958, 9.1 millions; put himself in a position to receive support from the segment of delegates who didn't want either Stevenson or Harriman.

A 17-member drafting subcommittee comes to grips today with the civil rights issue.

Whatever compromise is adopted on this issue by the full 108-member Resolutions Committee—and a compromise seemed in the making—the fight is almost certain to be carried to the convention floor.

1949, 107.2 millions. Total funds amount to 251.9 millions. The federal government will pay 90 per cent of the construction, matched by 10 per cent of the state money, or another 25 million dollars. In addition to "federal aid highways," more than "5,000 miles of so-called farm-to-market roads" will receive 33 million dollars in federal funds which are to be matched by the same amount of state funds on a 50-50 basis.

In Pennsylvania an east-to-west Interstate route has been marked out in both the northern and southern tier. If an entirely new route is substituted instead of Route 6 there will be a drastic economic effect on established communities.

Passed Unanimously

The resolution forming the Established Routes Association was passed unanimously and a steering committee representing 14 counties in the Southern Tier was promptly chosen.

Meredith Beegle, co-chairman of the Bedford Tourist and Resort Bureau, declared that his group was ready to write out a check for $1,000 to carry on the fight to combat this threat to the economic life of the counties in the Southern Tier. Others also urged the necessity of raising funds for this purpose. It was urged that a full-time paid executive secretary be secured to carry on the association's work.

Congressman H. K. Frear urged an appeal by letter to the U. S. Bureau of Roads' Secretary of Highways Lawler, and Congressional representatives, urging that the interstate system be retained as now constituted and that first consideration be given to established routes.

59 Pennsylvanians Pledged To Stevenson; Harriman 11

By LENOARD A. UNGER
CHICAGO (AP) — The bulk of Pennsylvania's Democratic delegation still backed Adlai Stevenson today despite a labor-inspired break-through of 11 votes for Averell Harriman.

The first show of hands on the presidential nomination in this key 74-vote delegation found 59½ votes for Stevenson, 11 for Harriman, 2 uncommitted and 1½ absent.

This preliminary demonstration of strength came somewhat as a surprise at a rousing 2½-hour closed caucus of the 148-member delegation Sunday night. Each delegate has a half vote.

Gov. Leader, delegation chairman and Stevenson backer, had counted on 65 to 70 votes for the 1952 presidential standard bearer.

A one-two punch was dealt to his hopes on Sunday with the announcement for Harriman by David J. McDonald, Pittsburgh, United Steel Workers president, and Thomas Kennedy, Hazleton, United Mine workers vice president.

May Get 6 More
Two other Harriman backers—Rep. Walter, Easton congressman, and Speaker Andrews, Johnstown, of the State House of Representatives—promised even more support for the New York governor by the time of the first floor roll call Thursday.

"We'll have at least six more votes by the first ballot," said Andrews.

Walter went farther. He said there would be 20 Harriman votes by then.

But Leader renewed his prediction of 65 votes for Stevenson, declaring:

"I think we can sell some of the Harriman people on coming back to Stevenson. Then of course there were four delegates who stayed uncommitted and three others absent. We're working on them."

"Predicts Two Ballots"
The governor said it would be all over on the first or second ballot.

One of the crucial announcements during convention eve maneuvering was that for Stevenson by Rep. Green, Philadelphia congressman and Democratic city chairman.

It meant that many of the uncommitted votes among Philadelphia's 32 delegates lined up with Stevenson despite last-minute missionary work by Harriman forces.

Newsman were barred from attending Sunday night's caucus. Leader explained it was a move to prevent what he termed "ramatics."

Confidence In Governor
But newsmen could hear through the closed doors the pleas for Harriman and Stevenson.

Leader described Stevenson as the only candidate "who came out of the woods" before President Eisenhower had his heart attack.

Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Democratic national committeeman, pitched his plea on the basis that vote for Stevenson would be an indication of confidence in the governor. Sen. Barr, Democratic state chairman, did the same.

Neither McDonald or Kennedy took issue with Stevenson in asking for Harriman support.

"Harriman is a friend of labor," said Kennedy. "That's why I'm for him."

"Tremendous President"
McDonald termed the New York governor "a person who would make a tremendous president."

"He has all the qualities that would make him so," the USW leader added.

The evening was dominated by the question of just how much support Harriman had in the delegation.

As it turned out Charles J. Sludden, Pittsburgh, legislative chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, came out for Stevenson. He was elected a delegate-at-large to replace former U. S. Sen. Myers who died recently.

Joseph A. McDonough, Philadelphia, state AFL president, was out of the room when the roll was called by Stevenson people claiming him as backer.

Harry Boyer, Reading, state CIO president and onetime steelworker, expressed a preference for Harriman after previously announcing for Stevenson.

Out of 11 delegates active in the CIO, Boyer said, seven went for Harriman and four for Stevenson.

Andrews, who spoke sharply against the Democratic organization's pro-Stevenson position, said to newsmen afterwards:

"You can't talk against the payroll."

He referred to Democratic state administration patronage.

"They took it for granted that every one will fall into line," said Andrews. "But it (the Stevenson vote) will be down to 50 by the first ballot."

Others For Harriman
Among others of the delegates who came out for Harriman were Mrs. Helen K. Massock, Washington, Pa., president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women; Joseph Yablonski, Clarksville, UMW official; John J. Kane, Allegheny County commissioner; David B. Roberts, Allegheny County prothonotary; Regis F. Cusick Sr., Pittsburgh; Mayor Edward C. Corcoran of Beaver Falls; Ransom Reeder, Johnstown; John S. Quarry Sr., Norristown; and Ross Atwell, Oil City.

The caucus kept the official roll call a secret.

Leader planned a breakfast in the morning and Barr, a breakfast Wednesday morning, purely as social affairs. No business is expected to be transacted.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Over 1,200 members of 4-H clubs and agricultural agents from throughout the state came to Pennsylvania State University Monday for the opening of the 32nd annual 4-H Club Week.

SEE BIPARTISAN BACKING ON SUEZ CRISIS AFTER SUNDAY TALKS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles seemed assured today of considerable bipartisan support for their drive to settle the Suez Canal crisis peacefully.

Evidence of broad Democratic as well as Republican backing among congressional leaders developed after Eisenhower and Dulles had briefed nine Democrats and 13 Republicans on Sunday on "the continuing gravity of the situation" and what the administration plans to do about it.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said no commitments were asked or given, but added in reply to a question that "politics stop at the water's edge when the security of our country is at stake."

Dulles Leaves Tuesday
Officials said results of the conference in the White House Cabinet room should strengthen Dulles' hand when he enters a 22-nation conference in London this week on the future of the canal.

Dulles, who leaves here today, would prepare to seek agreement by a majority of the 22 countries on a proposal for placing operation of the canal under an international authority. Such agreement could provide a basis for later negotiation with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who took sole control of the Canal July 26, and with Russia, India and other countries which side with Nasser.

Fresh hope for eventually achieving a negotiated settlement—instead of war—was found here in the manner in which Nasser yesterday turned down, as expected, Britain's invitation to Egypt to attend the London conference.

Didn't Slam Door
The tone of his statement was relatively calm. Instead of slamming the door on talk he made a counterproposal for a bigger conference in which the problem of guarantees for international freedom of the canal could be discussed.

The congressional leaders and 15 administration officials headed by Eisenhower and Dulles conferred for 80 minutes at the White House yesterday.

"All recognized the importance of dependable operation of the canal as a major artery of world traffic," said a White House statement.

"A Grave Crisis"
The statement said Eisenhower and Dulles, in discussing the situation, made clear that the United States will try at the London conference to help provide a peaceful and equitable solution "with

Arab League Warns West About Suez

LONDON (AP)—The Arab League of nine nations warned the West Monday an attack on Egypt in the Suez Canal crisis would be considered aggression against all Arab States.

The League's Political Committee, meeting in Cairo, also pledged support for President Nasser's call Sunday for a 45-nation conference to write new guarantees for freedom of passage through the canal.

Nasser's proposal was a counter to the 22-nation conference called by Britain that is opening in London Thursday to consider international control of the waterway which Nasser nationalized July 26. Egypt refused to send a delegation.

TRUMAN HOPES SOUTHERNERS TO SUPPORT PLANK

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Truman said Monday he has been "assured" the Democratic civil rights plank will be one "all Democrats can support."

"It may gain Southerners a little but they'll support it," Truman added at the conclusion of his early morning walk. "The South will not bolt again. They've had too many lessons about that."

Truman denied the suggestion raised by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt that he actually hopes for a convention deadlock with the idea of swinging the delegates later to Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for the presidential nomination.

Supports Harriman
He has announced his support of Gov. Averell Harriman while Mrs. Roosevelt endorses Adlai Stevenson.

"I don't play that way," Truman said. "I'm for Mr. Harriman straight through."

He said he "thinks" the New York governor will be nominated but declined to predict the ballot.

Will Support Candidate
Several times Truman was asked if he would support Stevenson if nominated.

"I'll support the nominee of the Democratic party—let's put it that way," Truman replied.

Would he go out on the stump for the party candidate?

Wants Democrat Elected
"It depends on what the national committee wants me to do," he said. "Regardless of who is the objective of safeguarding the interests of those dependent on the canal as well as recognizing the legitimate interests of Egypt."

Back in Chicago, at the Democratic convention, Johnson said he thought the Suez matter was "a grave crisis partially of our own making." He did not elaborate.

URGES PLANK PLEASING TO NORTH, SOUTH

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was disclosed Monday to have added her voice to those urging Democratic convention platform drafters to strive for a civil rights plank acceptable to both North and South.

The widow of the former President, backing Adlai E. Stevenson for the party's presidential nomination, made an unscheduled half-hour visit Sunday night before the 16-member drafting group now hammering out a preliminary draft of the 1956 platform.

It was not a public session, but newsmen outside heard delegates applaud her talk.

One of them said later she had expressed "hope there would be no civil rights plank that would be unacceptable to any delegates."

No Count Reference
That presumably would mean the statement of party aims would not include any reference to the Supreme Court decision banning racial segregation in public schools.

Stevenson has said the platform should contain an "unequivocal approval" of the decision, although also saying it seems strange the platform should be expected to endorse what is the law of the land.

Mrs. Roosevelt declined to say what she had told the platform drafting subcommittee.

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, chairman of the Resolution Committee and of the drafting group, said only she had made a general reference to civil rights.

Arranged By Truman
McCormack said former President Truman had arranged for Mrs. Roosevelt to appear before the group after its formal hearings had ended. Truman is backing New York Gov. Averell Harriman for the presidential nomination.

McCormack kept the drafting group working past midnight and called them into session again today.

Two former Democratic administration officials now trying to unseat Republican senators gave the platform group advice on a new farm plank last night.

They were Claude Wickard, former secretary of agriculture who is opposing Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.), and R. M. Spike Evans, former administrator of New Deal farm programs from 1938 to 1942 who is trying to defeat Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

Both said the Democrats should promise farmers 100 per cent of parity by a series of federal aids, including price supports at not less than 90 per cent.

Derby Brake Prize Awarded York Youth

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—No Pennsylvanians were among the place winners in the annual Soap-Box Derby won on Sunday by Norman Westfall, 14, of Rochester, N. Y., but a York, Pa., entrant carried home a prize anyway.

Larry Wilt of York won the Chevrolet trophy, awarded to the competitor who built the best brakes into his homemade vehicle.

FORESEES FIGHT AHEAD FOR DEMS

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. George Smathers of Florida told the Democratic National Convention Monday that "we have some difficult fights ahead" in the battle to retain control of Congress.

Nonetheless, he predicted "a stunning Democratic victory in November for the presidency on down."

Smathers is chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee—the group that helps Democratic candidates for the Senate with money, strategy advice and the like.

Can't Match Funds
In a speech prepared for the opening session of the convention, he said, "We cannot match the Republicans in campaign funds, and we do not have as ready access to newspaper and magazine circulation as they."

But, he added, "we have the more important ingredients for victory. We have the issues, and we have the men."

He noted the close party division in the Senate of the recently adjourned 84th Congress—49 Democrats to 47 Republicans. In the light of this, he said, the "accomplishments" of the Democratic leadership are "all the more remarkable."

Printers Picket Levittown Press

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Levittown Evening Press Monday was picketed by printers discharged by the newspaper for an alleged slowdown.

Chauncey E. Veanes, general manager of the newspaper, said that about a dozen printers had been fired for initiating "a slow down."

Veanes said the "slow down" was in connection with an effort by the Trenton local of the International Typographical Union. He said that the printers at Levittown, while union men with union cards, were not organized at the press plant and did not have a contract.

Walter Barner of Levittown, chapel chairman of the printing group within the plant, was unavailable for comment on the situation.

WEATHER FORECAST

Extended forecast for Tuesday, Aug. 14, through Saturday, Aug. 18:

Western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia: Temperature will average 3 degrees above normal West Virginia and near or 1-2 degrees below normal along Great Lakes, coolest likely about Friday. Thunderstorms likely Thursday and again late Saturday, total around 1/2-3/4 inch, especially in New York and Pennsylvania areas.

IKE ASKS "HARD, DEVOTED WORK" OF FOLLOWERS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Republicans arriving early to prepare for their national convention were greeted by a call for "hard, devoted work" from President Eisenhower.

The President's message, contained in the 160-page convention program, declared the work was needed "to help make the bright promise of the party's future more than equal to the record of the past."

He added "I know our united efforts will be rewarded with success."

The convention opens next Monday.

New Era Of Action
Addressed to "Republicans everywhere," the message said they were embarking "on a new century of political action" and called for "complete dedication to our country and a determination that the Republican party will constantly grow in effectiveness as a political instrument to serve the country."

Republicans are celebrating the party's formation. Rep. Frances B. Bolton (R-Ohio) noted the 56 delegates from her state were pledged to Vice President Nixon as the President's running mate. She added the ticket would be "strong" should the convention nominate Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts instead. Harold E. Stassen has proposed Herter.

Met By Len Hall
Howard Pyle, former governor of Arizona and a deputy assistant to the President, was the first prominent member of the White House staff to reach San Francisco. At the airport to meet him on Sunday was Leonard W. Hall, GOP national committee chairman.

Republicans made it no secret of their elation over the conflict between the two top Democratic candidates, Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York. Eisenhower has the Republican nomination clinched.

State Guard Begins Gap Summer Training

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)—About 8,000 troops of Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard Division went into the field Monday for the start of field work for their two-week summer training encampment.

The troops arrived at this 17,000-acre military installation from all parts of the state over the weekend and spent Sunday attending church services and preparing for the training period.

Highlight of the encampment will be the annual Governor's Day parade and review for Gov. Leader on Aug. 25 at Muir Field.

PIKE MISHAPS RISE 2 TO 26 PER CENT IN '56

HARRISBURG (AP)—The number of accidents, injuries and deaths on the Pennsylvania Turnpike during the first five months of 1956 showed increases ranging from 2 to 26 per cent over 1955.

But latest available comparative statistics showed today that the No. 1 safety indicator—the fatality rate—is lower for the January through May period than that recorded in all but one year since the road was opened.

A tremendous jump in the number of vehicles using the toll road system—more than 1 1/4 million above the same period of last year—and an increase of 40 million miles traveled accounted for a fatality rate of 4.7. The rate is based on the number of deaths for each 100 million vehicle miles traveled.

6.3 Rate For '55
For the entire year of 1955 the superhighway fatality rate was 6.3 although it had been 4.1 for the first five months before the death-taking summer crash.

In 1954 the rate was a turnpike low of 4.2. In the last five years the rate has gone as high as 12.4.

The total deaths for the first five months of this year was 24 or 5 above the same period last year. The increases have continued since May.

Current figures of the state police turnpike detail show 11 killed in June, 12 in July and 5 so far in August for a 1956 total of 52.

The month of March, when no deaths were recorded, was the first such month in the 16-year turnpike history. However, January's 10 toll and May's 8 were double the 1955 figures. Last year there were 90 persons killed in turnpike accidents, one less than the 1953 high.

Mileage Traveled
The five-month totals also show accidents up from 629 to 645 and injuries up from 390 to 401 over the 1955 figures.

Mileage traveled jumped from 468,710,385 to 508,521,648 or a 8.5 per cent difference. More than 7 1/2 million vehicles used the 408-mile of turnpike roadway during the January-May period.

On July 24 the Turnpike Commission directed its safety division to step up its activities, especially during the midnight of 8 a.m. period, when most accidents occurred. The action came after a "surprising number of multiple fatalities" were noted during July. Smooth tires have been blamed for a large number of the bad crashes.

52 Die In Crashes
Capt. Singleton Sheaffer, head of the state police turnpike detail, said the 52 fatalities so far this year occurred in 36 crashes.

He said 18 persons died in 11 crashes caused by bad tires, 15 in 12 crashes caused by drivers falling asleep at the wheel, 16 in 10 crashes caused by traveling too fast for conditions and 3 in 3 crashes of miscellaneous nature.

WASHINGTON (AP)—James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, moved Monday to forestall all requests for comment "on anything that happens or is said in Chicago this week" at the Democratic National Convention.

Just back from a two-week vacation and bubbling with good humor, the sometimes shorttempered press secretary told newsmen with a laugh that no one was going to make him angry.

SAVINGS BANK TO OPEN BRANCH
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Saving Fund Society of Germantown, Philadelphia, today carried approval by the State Banking Board to open a branch at Willow Grove.

Establishment of the branch had been opposed by area banks, which contended additional service was not needed.

However, the banking board ruled "there is need in the Willow Grove community for the banking services and facilities contemplated by the branch application."

The board opinion declared "the evidence clearly shows that the local banks in the area under consideration do not render adequate savings and mortgage services."

At the same time the board turned down an application by the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co., Philadelphia, to open a branch in the Bala-Cynwyd Shopping Center, Lower Merion Twp.

The board said there was no need for additional bank service in the Bala-Cynwyd area.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Highways Department has awarded these contracts:
Cambria County — Bituminous surfacing of 2 1/2 miles of a legislative route from Westmont north. L. W. Owen Co., Johnstown, $50,709.

Montgomery — Build a deck bridge over Perkiomen Creek at Graterford, Kingston Contracting Co., Inc., West Point, Pa., $103,499.

ALGERS (AP)—Twenty French soldiers were slain and another 40 disappeared or were wounded on Sunday in the fourth major nationalist rebel ambush in the same area within six days.

SMALL TORNADO CAUSES HEAVY LOSS IN STATE

LANSDALE, Pa. (AP)—A violent windstorm that the Philadelphia Weather Bureau described as "possibly a small tornado," ripped through a nearby section of Montgomery County late yesterday causing extensive damage but no reported deaths or injuries.

Widely scattered severe thunderstorms struck other parts of the county and some communities in lower Bucks County at about the same time.

The windstorm smashed house trailers at a trailer agency on the Bethlehem Pike three miles east of here, destroying two and overturning seven others. Benjamin Hartman, operator of the agency, said one of the trailers was tossed about 100 yards across the pike. He said each of the trailers that were destroyed was worth between $6,000 and $7,000 dollars.

Residents of Montgomery Twp. said car ports were torn away from their homes and part of at least one roof was blown off.

Elsewhere, trees were felled and electric and telephone service was disrupted.

Hartman said that as the windstorm approached he could see a "dark funnel" above the ground.

A weather bureau spokesman said the high winds "could have been part of a small tornado" since the reported conditions in the area—extreme instability of the air, a rapid vertical and horizontal spiraling of the winds and high humidity—"could have combined to produce a tornado."

He said the funnel Hartman reported seeing could have been part of a dark cloud detached by the wind from a towering cumulonimbus head, one of several seen in the area during the late afternoon.

MANGAN DRAWS SUSPENSION ON TWO MISTAKES

NEW YORK (AP)—He who sasses boss.

Winds up with job a total loss. Jim Mangan, third-string New York Giants' catcher, didn't like sitting on the bench, so he got up and sat in the locker room in last Sunday's double-header against Pittsburgh.

Then he made an even more serious mistake. He took Giants Manager Bill Rigney to task publicly.

"Rigney is the worst manager I ever played for," he sputtered. "As far as I'm concerned, he couldn't manage in a Class D league. He just doesn't know how to handle men."

Rigney Perplexed

He therefore, was suspended. It's unlikely that the Giants will miss his bat. He has two singles in 20 times to the plate for an average of exactly .100.

"This is a new one on me," said Rigney, obviously perplexed. "I can't figure out what's eating the kid. I had him in the office a couple of times before he blew up because he was complaining about not playing enough.

Told Off Rigney
"I tried to explain to him that the other catchers we have had a little more experience and were a little better, that he was fairly young (26) and shouldn't be impatient."

This is not Mangan's first outburst. He was with the Pittsburgh Pirates at the start of last season, but told off no less a person than Branch Rickey, and promptly was shipped to Hollywood.

In July he was sent to El Paso in the Class B West Texas-New Mexico League as player-manager.

Has Desire To Excel

With his team losing one day, he decided to pitch and merely lobbed the ball up. He was slaughtered and fined by the league president. So he decided to go back to his home in San Francisco and sit out the rest of the season.

When contract time came around this season, the Pirates told Mangan they were willing to forgive and forget.

"He admitted that he had done some unusual things," said Pirate General Manager Joe Brown Jr., with a shake of his head, "but he said most of them stemmed from a desire to excel."

Clement Rouses Convention With Fire-And-Brimstone Keynote Speech

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic convention delegates got their first big chance to whoop last night when Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee denounced what he said was a "sordid" Republican record of "broken promises and unredeemed pledges."

The 36-year-old governor, assigned the task of rousing the Democratic faithful to fighting pitch, delivered a keynote speech in old-fashioned fire-and-brimstone fashion.

Again and again the packed convention hall applauded, stamped and roared as the youthful governor laid into the Republicans as the "party of privilege and pillage."

Rough On Nixon
And he spared neither President Eisenhower nor Vice President Nixon in his indictment, shouting at one point:

"The President's record and his party's record are one and the same. He cannot pry them apart."

Clement referred to Eisenhower as "a genial, glamorous and affable general who joined the Republican party after he had reached the age for retirement from the regular Army."

Nixon came in for rougher treatment. Clement called him "the vice-hatchet man of the Republican party," a hark-back to

GOV. CLEMENT

Nixon's 1954 campaign speeches which enraged Democrats claimed cast reflections on their party's loyalty.

Gettysburg Mentioned
Referring directly to this, Clement declared:

"We are not going to sit back and watch one of the Republican candidates smugly attempt to lift himself above and beyond his party, meantime holding hands with the vice-hatchet man of the Republican party who — without interference from Gettysburg — charges 20 years of treason to the Democrats."

The Tennessee governor also went directly to one of the issues the Democrats almost certainly will raise in the campaign ahead — the issue they refer to as the "part-time presidency."

"No God-fearing Democrat," he said, wishes Eisenhower "anything less than the best of health and the greatest of happiness."

Fantastic, Frantic, Fatal
But he continued, "the people are entitled to know what his plans are for running the country should he proceed to set up a White House board of directors, and pass around high powers to a small and inside group."

He said the Eisenhower administration has pursued a "fantastic, frantic and fatal foreign policy" which he said had dropped the standing of the United States to an "all-time low" among the nations of the world.

He accused the Republicans of favoring a "privileged monopoly" over the farmers, small businessmen and workers of the country.

By contrast, he said, the Democrats are "close to the heart of the people," adding that they possess "the leadership and experience to conduct the affairs of America successfully on the home front and on world missions."
